GS-75 . . . . Prussian Grenadier (fur hat, long bag), marching GS-76 . . . . Artilleryman, in tri-corn hat, standing (With addition of a pike this will make a fine Sergeant)
GS-77 . . . . Musketeer, in tri-corn, marching
GS-78 . . . . Musketeer, in tri-corn, advancing
GS-79 . . . . Musketeer, in tri-corn, firing
GS-80 . . . . Musketeer, in tri-corn, standing on guard
GS-81 . . . . Officer, in tri-corn, long coat, standing
GS-82 . . . . Sailor, Shore duty, firing musket
GS-83 . . . . Wagon train driver, in tri-corn. (In sitting position)
- GS-84 . . . Grenadier, on guard
GS-85 . . . Musketeer (tricorn) on guard
GS-86 . . . Highlander, on guard

NOTE - Casting GS-84 differs from GS-72 in that it has fur hat with bag, not mitre hat. GS-85 is in slightly different position than GS-80. Casting GS-82 (Sailor) has neckacheif on head, and will make interesting "guerrilla" or 'irregulars' of many periods.

SOME GENERAL UNIFORM INFORMATION

BRITISH INFANTRY - Red coats with regimental colors on cuffs and coat turnbacks. Belts were usually buff or white. Pants buff or white, but Royal Regiments wore blue pants. Leggings were white for dress and black for campaign. Hats were black (tri-corn).

FRENCH INFANTRY - The French troops generally wore all white uniform, with regimental colors on collar, cuffs and turnbacks. Some regiments wore red or blue vests while some Regiments wore blue coats. Belts were white. Tri-corn was black, leggings white or black.

AUSTRIAN INFANTRY - Dressed almost the same as the French infantry in all white uniform with regimental colors on collar, cuff and turnbacks. Some Grenadier regiments wore the same type of cap as Casting GS-75.

RUSSIAN INFANTRY - Green coat, red vest and pants, red turnbacks and cuffs. White belts and white or black leggings. Black tri-corn. Jager Regiments in all green uniform. Black belts.

PRUSSIAN INFANTRY - Generally in dark blue coat, white or yellow vest and pants, white or buff belts, and mostly with red cuffs and turnbacks. Jagers in all green uniform with black belts. Most troops wore black leggings.
